

Name: _____

What do adults and kids really know about what the other thinks? Let's find out! You and an adult family member are going to try understanding each other's perspective.

First, answer the questions on the left side of the page. Try to identify the other person's perspective and the reasons he or she has that perspective. When you're done, fold the page in half so your answers can't be seen. Next, have your adult answer the same questions on the right side of the page. Then open the page and compare your answers to find out how well you understand each other's perspective!

Student's Perspective	Adult's Perspective
How many household chores should I do each week? My perspective is:	How many household chores should my student do each week? My perspective is:
My reason(s) are:	My reason(s) are:
I think my adult's perspective is:	I think my student's perspective is:
I think my adult's reason(s) are:	I think my student's reason(s) are:

Were you right about each other's perspective? _____

What did you learn about the other person's perspective? _____

This homework assignment was completed on _____

(DATE)

(ADULT SIGNATURE)